There is such deep excitement here and through out the country, that one fears to write lest he partake too much of the agitation by which he is surrounded. You have had the facts long ago by telegraph—the leading facts—and I will not enumerate them. But I will go back a little, and if possible, sketch the history of the past week in some of its private or inner aspects. The outside facts—the veto message, the President's speech, etc., etc., are soon stated. But there is more than that. The message itself need not have produced any alarming result, but as John Sherman said, "If I never could have office again in my life I must stand by my vote, for I shall be ashamed of myself ever after." This was the feeling of the thirty Senators who stood by their votes.

Previous to the veto the President had treated his political friends (we have a right to call the men who voted for him his friends,) with great coolness, and over and over again did he receive with the utmost warmth the men who were opposed to him and Mr. Lincoln all through the war. A New York delegation called upon him and were received with such icy coolness that they came quickly away so as not to lose all self-respect. Yet they were made up of able, influential gentlemen, and were entitled to a courteous reception. For months some of the very worst Copperhead politicians of this city have had access night and day to the President, and they have undoubtedly poisoned his mind. He has come to hate the Radical leaders in Congress, and to regard with complacency a set of Copperheads. These facts were generally known in Congress and there was a good deal of combustible material laying around promiscuously ready for a stray spark. It came in the veto-message.

I do not think that if the veto had been confined to objections to points in the bill it would have produced so much feeling, but the argument of the President against the right of Congress to keep out the rebel States for a day, roused the Republican members of Congress to much indignation, if not anger. But a rupture could have been avoided upon the message, and I am inclined to think would have been but for the President's unfortunate speech to the rebels and Copperheads of Washington on the evening of the 22d. I write deliberately, for I know the crowd that serenaded Mr. Johnson when he made that speech. They were—a majority of them—very bad men. How could the President of the United States have let himself down to the level of such a hideous gathering and denounced Congress, denounced its great committee, and intimated that he would break them down and carry his point? It was this speech that rendered further silence ridiculous—and Mr. Fessenden, backed up by a large majority of the Senate, in spite of the solicitations and protestations of some of his personal and party friends, initiated that the concurrent resolution asserting the power of Congress over this important subject should be taken up. It was taken up, and Pitt Fessenden made a great speech upon it. It was calm, argumentative and impressive.

Mr. Fessenden's speech, was, in point of style, equal to his last, and will not be surpassed in Congress on this subject. The tone of the speech was admirable. He did not utter a word that was rankling or harsh, but spoke of the President with respect. But his argument was overwhelming. It was a curious sight to see Messrs. Doolittle, Dixon and Cowan. Their very appearance was pitiable. They looked as if they were deserters. They seemed to be conscious that they were acting in conjunction with a set of political villains. It was curious to see how the vote on the veto and the proposition to take up the concurrent resolution divided the Senators from California, Oregon and Nevada. The manly Conness from California voted to sustain the power of Congress; drunken McDougall went with the President. The pure and clear-headed Williams stood by the loyal millions; Nesmith, who always has an eye to profit, sided with the President. Stewart voted with the President, and Nye stood as steadily by the loyal people of the North and West. In such a crisis, it is always to be expected that weak and corrupt men will fall. They go to destruction because they haven't the courage to prevent it—to stand up against power. There are a few such men in Congress at this time, and more who feel a little weak in the knees; but, with proper management, they can be saved.

Governor Cox, of Ohio, who is a conservative republican, came on here a few days ago, and has witnessed the prominent events which have rendered the last ten days remarkable in our history. On saturday evening he had a long interview with the President on the subject of his speech and the intense excitement prevailing all over the country. I have reason to believe that the Governor was very faithful with the President, as he had a right to be, conservative that he is. He reminded him that the worst men in the country were full of joy—that every Vallandigham flung out his flag which had been hid away for four years when he heard of the veto and the fatal speech! The President listened in silence for a time, but at this statement he was greatly moved, and protested that he could not help it if the copperheads embraced his principles. It was in vain that Gov. Cox urged that such a result gave evidence that something wrong had been done. He asserted with great positiveness that he meant to fight out the quarrel in the Union party, and that he was not going over to the enemy. These corrections made a strong impression on the mind of the Governor, and he has had several interviews with prominent members of the Ohio delegation in Congress. The Governor urges a conciliatory policy in Congress, not so much with the hope that the President can be pacified as for the purpose of making up a good record for the elections next fall. He urges the admission of the Tennessee delegation at once. Very likely he is right so far as policy is concerned, but if he expects to arrest the steady drift of the President by it he is mistaken.

One of the most unfortunate things connected with the present troubles, is the fact that the President so rarely hears the truth. Everybody around him praises him and does not remind him of the fact that he has made some mistakes as well as other people. Let me give one lamentable instance. Mr. Seward was in the city of New York when the President wrote his speech—in fact was at that very time making a speech to the people of New York. The next day, after having read the President's speech, Mr. Seward sent him a dispatch approving of it from beginning to end. How is the President ever to learn what the people think of his acts, when such men as Mr. Seward praise a speech that meets with condemnation in every quarter? The Evening Post, which stands by the President's general policy, condemns his speech as an insult to the whole American people. Yet Mr. Seward sent a long dispatch, in which he took particular pains that the President shall not even entertain a "second, sober thought." This would seem to be dishonest—certainly, it is very much like it. More than that, there were men in the Senate who still profess that they belong to the Republican party who went up to the President a day or two after his speech and congratulated him on it. He, doubtless, at this moment, thoroughly believes that the people are with him in his speech, for he trusts the courtiers who surround him, and does not go beyond them. The *

Where the Power Lies.

The President recognizes the governments which have been set up in the revolted States at his dictation, as the legitimate governments of those States. Congress has not yet recognized the existence of any local governments in the States which were in rebellion. The President assumes that his recognition is sufficient, and that as he declares the governments which have been organized to be the rightful governments of the States, Congress has no right to hold otherwise. Now the question arises, where does the power lie of declaring that these State governments have a legal, Constitutional existence? All agree that the old governments of those States were destroyed; now shall the President or shall Congress decide whether these new ones are to be recognized as in harmony with the Government of the Union? Let Reverdy Johnson, one of the President's supporters, speak on this point. In February, of last year, he said in the Senate:

> It is improper for this body to admit to seats Senators from Louisiana till, by some joint action of both Houses, there shall be some recognition of an existing State government acting in harmony with the Government of the United States and recognizing its authority.

This is certainly explicit enough, and grants all that Congress has ever claimed. Now let us produce the authority of Mr. Seward himself in support of this very doctrine. In a letter written by him to Governor Sharkey of Mississippi, last July, the following passage occurs:

> The President sees no reason to interfere with General Sickles's proceedings. The Government of the State will be provisional only until civil authorities shall be restored with the approval of Congress. Meanwhile the military authority cannot be withdrawn.

Thus it will be seen that Reverdy Johnson, Secretary Seward and the President have entirely changed their position in relation to this question. The authority of Congress to act in the matter was always recognized by the President until after he had yielded to the blandishments of rebels and copperheads. He changed his tactics on this subject precisely as he afterwards changed from a supporter to an opposer of the Freedmen's Bureau bill. Throughout, he has been as inconsistent as opinionated, presumptuous and obstinate.

"ELOQUENT"—DEMOCRATIC.—The Herald of this city, a day or two since filled a column and a half with such soundly Democratic utterances as the following—a speech at Richmond by that sound, bed-rock Democrat, Henry A. Wise. Speaking of the Confederate soldiers, Wise "eloquently" exclaims:

> Let whoever will swear they were rebels and traitors, I will contradict the oath, and appeal to God, in the Holy of Holies, as high as Heaven's throne, and swear that they were pure patriots, loyal citizens, well tried and true soldiers, brave, honest, devoted men, who proved their faith in their principles by those oaths which engendered them immortal heroes and martyrs! No one shall inscribe the epitaphs of rebellion and treason upon the tombs of their dead, without our burning protest being uttered against the foul and false profanation. And if any wounds of the living are labelled with rebellion and treason, I would tear away the infamy though the wounds should bleed unto death.

This mouthing, the Herald quotes approvingly as "eloquent." It may be eloquent, but it is the eloquence with which the damned spirits—after being cast out of Paradise into the seething cauldrons of Hell—sought to inspire their followers to renew the vain assault upon the battlements of Heaven. It is the eloquence of rank and rampant, shameless treason. It is the eloquence of sublimated, unalloyed Democracy. Such "eloquence" is the manna of the wilderness, upon which Democrats feed and fatten. Such "eloquent" men as Wise are set up among them as serpents of brass to look upon and be healed.

You may go on with your lifted eyes in worship of the serpent Wise and fatten your hungry souls upon his eloquence, but, for the sake of what there is in man of consistency, do not call it loyalty.

HOW ABOUT THAT "COLLISION?"—Day before yesterday, the Herald predicted a "collision" between the President and Congress, of "an entirely different character" from that of a difference of opinion. The prediction was a regular "croak," and the Herald, like Sainsbury and McDougall, probably saw in the not far off future, "revolution" and "blood."

Yesterday, the Herald got news that "Johnson has weakened;" that he has declared his purpose of enforcing the provisions of the civil rights law, and the Herald coolingly says, "this is as it should be." It is as it should be—but what about that "collision?"

WHAT DOES HE MEAN?—"Dear Mac," who has evidently "seen Jones," is confidentially informed by Mosher, an undoubted member of the Jones confraternity, that O'Fay, now their candidate for Congress, is "too much mixed." This remark is not very explicit. Does it not mean that O'Fay is too much mixed up with the Joneses to receive the votes of the people, or does it have allusion to Nesmith's remark about his "mixed" pedigree? Mosher ought to inform us what he really does mean.

Readers, That the consumption of the opposition that the Democratic party is in favor of repudiating the public debt is slanderous and false.

To assume the payment of the rebel debt would be as great an outrage and infamy as to repudiate the national debt. And on the question of assuming the rebel debt, Rogers, member of Congress from New Jersey, says:

> To prohibit the payment of the Confederate debt is the very emblem and quintessence of tyranny.

Rogers is spokesman for the Democratic side of the House. His party believes with him.

MILITARY.—The Sierra Nevada which arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco, brought up two companies of the 1st U. S. Cavalry, one hundred and ninety strong. They were landed at Fort Vancouver. We understand they will go immediately east of the mountains.

Orders have been issued for the abandonment of Fort Steilacoom, on Puget Sound. The force and material now there will be distributed to other posts where they are more needed.

TINKLE, TINKLE.—The Democratic candidate for State Treasurer is John C. Bell. He never felt more violently (w)rung than when his Kentucky rebel friends went under. At the end of this campaign, he will be a cracked Bell.

FAY(M).—One of the late California papers announces the nomination, by the Democratic State Convention of Oregon, of "Fay Jackson Counts" Sioh is fame!

The Sentinel says the Democratic State ticket is "bound up Salt river by about twenty-five hundred majority." Amen.

To day is the anniversary of the assassination of President Lincoln. Will the Democracy celebrate?

[DISPATCHED TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 12.

Wisconsin Legislature asks Doolittle to Resign.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The Wisconsin Legislature by a strict party vote, except two Republican members in each branch, adopted resolutions declaring that Senator Doolittle has betrayed the people of Wisconsin and ought to resign. A resolution approving the President's policy was voted down, without a single Republican vote being given in its favor. The Legislature adjourns to-day.

Affairs in Tennessee.

The Tennessee House is still at a dead stand. Speaker Haskell (Conservative) refuses to entertain any motion to refer the credentials of new members to a committee, and insists that those holders who did not resign but whose seats were declared vacant by the Governor, are still members. If the Speaker votes there will be enough conservative present for a quorum at any time they choose to withdraw, now radical members having been elected from districts declared vacant by the Governor. The bad blood on both sides presages personal violence. The Radicals consider it a life and death struggle. If beaten now, the whole Brownlow government goes down.

Cattle Disease in New York.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The health commissioners having ordered cows and hogs to be removed from the limits of the police district, physicians declare that the cases are nearly all affected with pleuro pneumonia, and if sent into the country, they will spread disease and cause immense loss.

Steamer Arrival—Difficulties Adjusted —Conspirators Released.

NEW YORK, April 12th.—The steamer Santiago de Cuba from Greytown with California passengers has arrived. Difficulties between stove founders and moulders at Albany and Troy, N. Y., have been adjusted, and work will be resumed to-morrow. Upwards of 1,000 men will be set to work.

GREYTOWN, April 12th.—Mulligan and Horsey, the Indiana conspirators have been released from the Ibilo penitentiary by the President, in consequence of the decision of the U. S. Supreme Court, that their trial by Military Commission was illegal. They had a re-union at the Nail House, Columbus, with much jollification before returning to Indiana. Horsey, released a few days previously, is now stumping Indiana for the democratic ticket.

Officers of New Orleans Suspended Gen. Grant a Cab Driver—Another Release.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Johnson ordered the suspension of Mayor Monroe and Alderman Nixon of New Orleans till they are pardoned. Acting Mayor Clark continues in office.

Gen. Grant was arrested last Saturday by a policeman for fast driving. He was tried to-day before a justice of the peace and paid the fine. Capt. R. D. Winder, imprisoned at Richmond for several months, was discharged to-day by order from Washington.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The House spent considerable time upon the bill giving army paymasters during the late war a commission of one quarter of one per cent. on all sums disbursed by them, as a compensation for their risks and labors. The measure would require two and a half millions. It met a very general and decided opposition, and probably will never come again to the surface.

The House passed the bill for reimbursing Massachusetts for her militia expenses, amounting to $371,668.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The Senate, on Monday, April 9th, passed an act for the appointment of three Commissioners to codify the laws of the United States, each receiving a salary of $5,000 a year, for not exceeding three years.

Commissioner Sargent, of the Customs bureau, in providing for the more effectual protection of the revenue along the southwestern frontiers, where it has been discovered, that considerable smuggling is carried on by persons entering the Gulf at Galveston, and introducing contraband goods into Arizona. An agent will be stationed at Fort Yuma to look after affairs.

In the Senate, Stewart, of Nevada, presented a joint resolution proposing to amend the Constitution by prohibiting distinction on account of color, prohibiting the payment of the rebel debt, and providing that when any one of the eleven seceded States shall comply with these conditions, it shall be admitted to representation; referred to the committee of fifteen.

Eulogies of the late Senator Foote were pronounced by V. T. Johnson, of Maryland, Fessenden, of Maine, Sumner, of Massachusetts, Brown, of Missouri, Pomeroy, of Kansas, Cragin, of New Hampshire, Chambers, of Vermont, and McDougal, of California, after which the Senate adjourned.

The House during the morning hour, defeated the bill for the relief of paymasters of the army, and referred it, together with a resolution calling for information as to how many paymasters are delinquent, to the military committee.

The House passed the Senate bill authorizing the President to sell a gunboat to the Republic of Liberia.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

Rebellion at Panama—Letter from the U. S. Consul.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—The jury in the case of Wm. Higgins, charged with manslaughter in killing Patrick Kelly at Sportsman's Hall, rendered a verdict of acquittal.

Arrived, ship Buster Hill, 123 days from Boston.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—No Eastern news to-day. The steamship Sacramento, from Panama, arrived this morning. On the 24th of March a rebellion occurred at Panama. The conspirators were shot down by the government troops and all their leaders captured.

CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES, PANAMA, March 28th, 1866.

Messrs Editors Star and Herald—GENTLEMEN: I fully approve the views expressed in your paper of the 27th inst., in regard to the emigration of poor miners to Barbacoas. Great suffering already exists at the mines, and my advice to all miners in California and Nevada is, do not come unless you have at least five hundred dollars in your pockets, above the expense of getting to the mines, as a capital to start with, or as a means of returning, if sick or dissatisfied. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant W. B. LITTLE, U. S. Consul.

Defeat of the Spanish Squadron.

News of the entire defeat of the Spanish squadron by the Peruvians and Chilleans, is confirmed. The allied squadron consisted of the Apurimac, 30 guns; Peruvian corvette America, 12 guns; Peruvian corvette Union, 12 guns; Peruvian dispatch boat Guadanga, 3 guns; Chilean, in all, mounting 75 guns. The Spanish vessels were the frigate Blanca, 36 guns; frigate Villa de Madrid, 50 guns; in all, 86 guns. For about two hours a most earnest cannonading was kept up, the fire of the allies being well regulated throughout.

The Blanca was rendered almost useless and unable to continue the fight. She dropped behind the island referred to, and endeavored to do damage by throwing shell over the island upon the allies. Her cabin was knocked to pieces. Of killed and wounded the number must have been heavy, judging from the dead bodies afterwards seen floating about.

The other vessel suffered badly also, and both soon cleared out. Most unfortunately the machinery of the Apurimac was on shore, and the America and Union could not help their ambrance, otherwise three ships would most assuredly have fallen a prize to the bravery and skill of the allies. Their loss amounts to a trifle; only two men were killed in the action, and the damage to the vessel is scarcely worth mentioning.

American Shipping.

The United States steamers Vanderbilt, Tuscarora, and Monitor Monadnac were at Valparaiso.

The steamship Moses Taylor sails for San Juan del Sur at 11 A. M. to-morrow with a large number of passengers. The Pacific Mail steamship Sacramento will sail on the 18th inst instead of the 19th, the usual sailing day hereafter. Hereafter, in all months when there are 30 days, the 18th instead of the 19th will be the day of departure. This change of programme has been adopted for the purpose of connecting with the French line at Aspinwall.

J. A. Crane and John Kleg were yesterday committed to the Insane Asylum.

The bill of costs charged up against the plaintiff and in favor of the defendant, in the suit of Ann Cartgher vs. Wm. Daniels, amounts to $1,340.

Gold—Legal Tenders.

Gold in New York yesterday was 127¼. Our market for legal tenders is a little weak, and quotations irregular. The brokers have been buying at 73½@73¾, and selling at 73¾@73¾.

Mining stocks, with one or two exceptions, are a little off to-day. Imperial, Ophir and Yellow Jacket being the favorite means of speculation. Yellow Jacket fell $45, Belcher $15, Sullivan $3 50, Overman and Imperial $1 50. Ophir advanced $7 50, and Choller Potosi as compared with the corresponding board yesterday.

LECTURE LAST EVENING.—The Taylor street Methodist Church was crowded with a highly intelligent audience last night, to hear an address by the Rev Horatio Stebbins, of San Francisco, for the benefit of the Portland Library. He was introduced to the audience by Judge Strong, and proceeded at once to his subject, which he previously announced, "Our Country." The speaker said that at the present moment our country and its future were the object of attention and interest throughout the civil world. To be sure, while a desolating war was threatening the very life of the Republic, England and France were taunting and sneering at us, both in their official capacity and public press. Since the success of our institutions is the true principle of representative government, those powers had come around and said we were the best fellows in the world." In four years public opinion in regard to us had completed a summersault. America is respected abroad from its impressive enforcement of civil law. The death of slavery has broken down that popular regard aristocratic nations have for caste, and has hastened great numbers of foreigners to visit us and ascertain by actual observation the effect of a revolution in a republican form of government. There has also been, and is now, a great flocking abroad of our own people. This may be owing to the effect of an inflated currency, to display illgotten wealth, or with the more laudable view to become acquainted with the institutions, habits and customs of other nations. Each will profit by what they see. Our flag, the emblem of liberty, stands as the "ensign to the nations" down in the Declaration of Independence, its staff sown from the Cross, and its field of Christ's race, free, religious, industrious and great. Europe are now for the first time capable of forming a judging mind as other fairly. What we now see is knowledge. The general enlightenment of society in every educational, executive or governing branch is superior to ours, which is bound now to be fully known and from which we should profit. New York, the commercial metropolis of America, whose influence and power felt on the remote shores, the most vain and gay city in the civilized world. This is due to the folly, ignorance and extravagance of its growing power, its terrible taxation, and political depravity. Such a fact, however, must not detract from pure political principles, but rather from its own personal experience, universal suffrage will suitably be to all colors at some time or other. It is not meant to be in our generation, but it is humanity, and the time for its consummation will positively arrive. Our Government is the admiration of the enlightened world; but Christianity, itself, is subject to degradation by its professors and priests. It is an authenticated fact, that some of the priests in South America "go down to the people." Moral intelligence, education and religion are great attributes to a nation, yet unless accompanied, are like a rich farm with no cultivation. Mr. Stebbins did not trouble the speaker, as he was neither a lawyer nor despairer of Southern men. The Rebellion—by all goes to show that they showed great pluck in the late war, and had their cause been right, their page in history would have been glorious. Great principles have great accidents. It is all, at first, seems hard, and great difficulties must be overcome; yet it is better to go at once to broad and ground than to be groping about in the eternal swamp of doubt and fright. The speaker thought better to abolish the negro as the parasite of the South for the sake of the glorious future.—The [illegible] of the country produces a pulled up countenance and a hollow heart; it [illegible] commercial stability and causes [illegible] industrial channels, general anxiety; in fact, is inestimably damaged by it. The Secretary of the Navy was trying to contract the inflation and [illegible] of the country. After vividly picturing the resources of our continent and its effects upon foreign [illegible] powers, the lecturer closed his remarks. The above is but a faint synopsis of an address which might be paralyzed by pulpits. It was listened to throughout with the deepest attention and frequently applauded. We hope to hear him again, upon a subject of general public interest.

THE MONTANA.—We are advised by private telegram that the steamer Montana, Capt. J. R. Kelly, arrived at Fort Vancouver at 10 o'clock last night. The line being down on that day, [illegible] for the arrival not being in our city whether at the time, or the day after. [illegible] was hit in this community yesterday about the [illegible] number of families, including that of Mrs. [illegible] Taylor, and others of our citizens, [illegible] homes for California and the East. [illegible] should give to regret when they embark [illegible] by the steamships running to this port, that [illegible] that those most particularly interested should pass [illegible] nights until they hear of the safe arrival of their friends at San Francisco, but, so far as [illegible] concerned, there can be no cause for [illegible]

SHOW BOARDS.—Messrs. Bolter & Anblin, manufacturers of brooms, on Taylor street, have just finished a broom which they design hanging in front of their store as a sign. The proportions and fine finish of the broom will be so conspicuous that nobody need look for their sign in vain. The total length is six feet [illegible] the brush which is straight, bright and tough. The brush is [illegible] inches in length, the breadth thirty-six inches, and weighs twenty pounds. It is woven with brass and bound with wire in the most perfect style of the art, and altogether is a little the largest and probably, ever manufactured on this coast. Messrs. Bolter & Anblin have already acquired a high reputation of [illegible] of good brooms, and we will venture the assertion that this specimen will defy competition. Sampling as they do, a west in the line of [illegible] business, we hope they will be liberally patronized.

[illegible] DRAUGHTS.—In conversation with business men [illegible] we were informed that one of the most serious [illegible] to be existing in the way of trade with the mining [illegible] was the wholesale issuing of drafts by [illegible] mining companies of South Boise and Owyhee [illegible] whose daily appeared the counters of the [illegible] of this city, from Boise, Ruby, Silver and Idaho [illegible], and rubbers, with drafts that are really not worth twenty-five cents on the dollar, in offer for [illegible] In every case, no doubt, the holders of this kind of paper, purchased at par, to save running the [illegible] being murdered and robbed by the notorious highwaymen that infest the road. Thousands of dollars are loaned in this way, and it belies no good to the state or [illegible] in Idaho.

RUNAWAY.—In the absence of anything exciting to report, we usually had a runaway in former days, but now, without business before the Courts, and a quiet, Sunday-like appearance everywhere, it is seldom a runaway happens. However, yesterday a team of horses attached to a wagon was frightened by a break-a-neck rush down town, [illegible] up at the wharf unless they managed to nearly [illegible] the wagon to which they were attached, and vehicle drawn by a team of some other family [illegible] Injuries resulted from the scrape.

NEW MUSIC.—Mr. L. V. Ruffs has placed upon our table sheets of new music, received by steamer yesterday. Among the collection of the vocal beauties of England and [illegible] Willie, appears one more brilliant than the rest, entitled "Good-bye, at the Door."

COURT OF CHANCERY.—April 13th, 1866. Judge R. D. Shattuck. In the case of L. V. Starr vs. J. F. Otis, judgment was rendered for plaintiff in the sum of $290.

MASONIC NOTICE.—The Third Quarterly Meeting of the M. E. Church of this city, will begin to-day at 2 o'clock. Rev. N. Doane will preach. The Trustees of the church will meet at 4 o'clock. All are desired to be present.

REV. HORATIO STEBBINS will discourse at the basement of the Baptist Church to-morrow morning, and as announced from the pulpit in the afternoon and evening.

FAIR AND FESTIVAL.—The ladies interested in Liberal Christianity, give notice in another column of a fair and festival, at Turn Verein Hall on Monday evening.

LOST PAPER.—We are under obligations to S. J. McCormick for a large roll of late Eastern papers and periodicals received by the steamer Sierra Nevada.

STEAMER ENTERPRISE.—The "water man" was driving his teams over the streets last evening, waiting the last

ARRIVAL OF THE SIERRA NEVADA.—The California, Oregon and Mexico Steamship Company's steamer Sierra Nevada, Capt. Francis Conner Commander, arrived at seven o'clock yesterday morning, four days from San Francisco, having left on the 9th, at 11:30 A. M. The bar was crossed on the 12th at 5 o'clock P. M., and the steamer passed on up to Vancouver, where she landed 200 troops and then arrived here as above stated. The freight of the Sierra Nevada is light ammunition, to but 200 tons, and her passengers number less than 100. The demand for freight to Oregon from San Francisco was so heavy on sailing. The following are passengers by the Sierra Nevada:

Col E M Baker U S A, Maj F Myers U S A, Lieut R P Hammond, Miss Anna Vic, Miss Susan Coe, J G Wallace, Capt Jas Strang, Thos White, A Bellman, R Fidler, Geo Wandt, C Richter, Benj Brown, S Heyn ids, W Roberts, T Martin, H K Stevens, J C Clark, W K Kalkenstein, N H Bennett, L Hall, R Shain, L P Collins, Miss L Chandler, Miss Nellie Perkins, O C Gale, Wm Nell, C M Gale, A C Wilcox, E A Thatcher, Miss S Miller, Miss M Griffin, H N Holden, Jno Ham, N H Bliss, Jos Tackner, Jos Higgins, Saml Cochrane, Thos Cochrane, Thomas Clark, F R Field, E H Broomfield, R L Brown, M R Hunter, F M Bartholomew, Miss C Berdin, J P Winegar (W F & Co's messenger), 31 in steerage, and Companies H and I, 1st U S Cavalry—100 men.

ON THE WAYS.—The sloop Hoit is now on the ways, and has been cut through and lengthened ready for the ship carpenters to begin operations. When completed she will be a fine model propeller, and we have no doubt will be a fast craft.

STEAM PULLING.—Mr Atkinson has concluded to undertake the removal of stumps from ground in this city and, as will be seen by advertisement, offers the services of his machine to the public. As soon as he can arrange his plans he will be prepared to fill orders for the machine.

THE ORIZABA.—The old hulk will leave San Francisco to-day for Portland.

State Items

The recent flood in Bear creek, Jackson county, carried away a portion of the foundation of Mr Lindley's sawmill at Phoenix, injuring the structure so much that it will have to be rebuilt.

Mary E Morgan has been ordered, by the county court of Jackson county, to be sent to the Insane Asylum. She has been hitherto subject to occasional attacks of insanity, caused by fits and idiotcy.

The Union men of Jackson county are to have a "ratification" to-day. We learn that they are going into the canvass with spirit, and that Southern Oregon is good for a rousing Union vote.

J. B. Curley, of Salem, has recently completed a beautiful and seemingly accurate map of the Santiam mines, showing the topography of the country, the location and direction of the ledges upon which work is progressing, and the relative positions, depth and altitude of the tunnels now in course of sinking upon the White Bull lode. It may be seen by calling upon Mr. Kenyon, at the Western Hotel, in this city.

Mrs. Henrietta E. Bell has received the appointment of Postmistress at Milwaukie, Oregon. This, we believe, is the first instance in the State of the appointment of a lady to preside over the destinies of a postoffice.

Mr. Kenyon of Salem is now stopping at the Western Hotel in this city, awaiting the coming of the Montana, by which he will take passage to San Francisco and thence to the East. He has with him a cabinet of specimens from the Santiam mines which he proposes to exhibit in New York and other eastern cities, with a view to enlisting capital in the development of these mines. Among the specimens he also has two golden bricks, the result of the first run of the mill at Quartzville. Mr. Kenyon says that on Wednesday, Mr. E. O. Smith arrived at Salem direct from the mines, bringing the intelligence that the "Santiam G. and S. Mining Co." had just struck a very rich development in their lower tunnel. The quartz had become considerably harder as the tunnel deepened, and is now found without any indications of decay and plentifully impregnated with coarse, heavy and round gold, such as has never before been found in any part of those mines.

Later from Montana

From a letter from Deer Lodge to the Montana Post, March 17th, we make the following extracts:

There are immense numbers of stampeders now en route to the rich diggings at Big Bend and Elk Creek. Crowds leave this place daily for the new mines, and those who return bring back the most flattering accounts. Claims are held at a high figure, and a good many are changing hands, prices varying from $250 to $2,000. I have yet to see a man with a "long face," or one "hunting" escape from the lips of a disappointed pilgrim.

All is excitement and enthusiasm among the thousands who come among us this season. They had not yet heard of the new discoveries of Elk and Bear Creeks, and when it becomes known among them that a mining region, nearly as large as that which they had previously heard of, has lately been opened up, the most intense excitement that has been experienced among gold hunters for the past ten years will be created. It is estimated that there will be from 5,000 to 10,000 pack animals placed on the route to this country, this summer.

Quartz interests in this country are being regarded with some affection by even the most anti-quartz-on-the-brain people, the Butte City leads proving themselves of great richness and extent. There are some thirty ledges prospected, shafts having been sunk to a depth of twenty to seventy-five feet on each. I have good authority for saying that the return of $22,000 was offered for a claim on the famous "Rocker" lode, near Silver Bow. The "Original" is being developed by a New York Company, and it is more than exceeding the anticipations of the lucky owners. The "Alice Brown" is also of great value, besides the "Empire" (or "Brady," as the Jumpers call it,) "Viridian," "Union," and a host of others, the names of which I cannot now recall.

The most flattering accounts come from Gorman Gulch. There are about 400 miners at work, and they are all doing well. French Gulch and Silver Bow, are also promising much better than it has been supposed they would, and there will be employment for a large force this season.

Mr. Charles Hutchins, agent of the Flat Head nation, has been relieved from duty by Col A. H. Chapman, formerly of the 54th Illinois regiment. Col. Chapman stopped in our place a few days, and created a very favorable impression.

The following items are also from the Montana Post of the same date:

Messrs. Sam. Hoffman, Jem Smith and Fred. K. Root have discovered a new quartz district near Jefferson Bridge, and called it the Silver Star District. The quartz is very rich and contains both silver and gold; the ledges are wide and well defined. The ledges now being worked upon are "Winstanley," "C M Davis," "Pen d'Oreille" and "Gem." Chunks of free gold are often visible in the specimens.

Steamboatmen are asking from fifteen to twenty cents for freighting from St. Louis to Fort Benton. Mr A. Mateer and some of the boatmen agree to lay freight down at Helena, via Muscle-Shell for fifteen cents per pound. We learn that Johnston, the cattle stealer, who was returned to Deer Lodge from our jail, was hanged by the people. Clark, the murderer, has escaped. If caught he knows his fate.

Seward says: "The President is in harmony with the States that were in rebellion." Yes, and it might have been added, "not in harmony with the States that remained loyal."

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES, when allowed to dissolve in the mouth, have a direct influence to the affected parts; the soothing effect to the mucous lining of the wind pipe, allays Pulmonary Irritation, and gives relief to Coughs, Colds, and the various Throat Affections to which public speakers and singers are liable.

FINE PICTURES.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL continue to take the lead in PHOTOGRAPHS, ALBUM and VISITING CARDS, AMBROTYPES, etc, at the CARDWELL GALLERY, 89 First Street, above Washington. The Celebrated Artist, MR. DESMOND, superintends the Operating Room. Persons may sit at any time from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the circle of female life it will be found eminently useful, and slowly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants. S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, inordinate palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, dizziness after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must superceded all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and cultivate the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unobliterated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask; We answer, "in no easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How," you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victor of Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Its HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors foul prepare,
That fever-tint the heavy air
Drink not nauseated the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent.
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that result the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and ill-ventilated stores, and the baneful influences of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind;
Agues that as they go and come,
Make ill a constant sanctimonious
Colics and dysentric pains,
Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those tedious ills,
No'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Broad diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these, though universal nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
Hostetter's BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent, alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sour-stomach, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To inmates safe home, in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound,
And tillers of wet, marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged, and old;
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gift without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's BITTERS we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is Montana News.

We clip the following from the Montana papers of March 15th

CLEAN UP FROM THE "ORO CACHE" CLAIM

The Seneca Falls' mill in Summit District, cleaned up out of seventeen and a half tons of average quartz from the Oro Cache location, No. 1, eighty-seven ounces nine pennyweights and eighteen grains, which at eight ten dollars per ounce, amounts to $1,383 75 or $79 50 per ton. The Oro Cache is one of the first discovered ledges in Summit, and has yielded as high as $120 per ton in a little, one horse mill!

INTENSELY COLD WEATHER

The weather for several days has continued to hold all the agreeable. Persons who two days ago were doing good work with full stations, are compelled to knock off for the present, both on account of the scarcity of water and the intensity of the cold

ELK CREEK MINES

Elk Creek sluice continues at par, and new discoveries are being made every day. Parties are leaving for there constantly

MONTANA PROSPECTS IN CONGRESS.

A letter from Washington to the Post says

I think Montana will get an Assay Office, a road from Sioux City and military protection on the road, and a Surveyor General appointed. This is about all we could expect this winter. * * * *

Colonel Sam McLean (delegate from Montana) is not here. I have not seen him. He was informed that the delegation was coming, but did not see fit to be here

COURT MATTERS.

The U. S. Court sits to-day. E. W. Carpenter has been appointed clerk in place of C. T. Jones, who resigned in order that he might devote his whole time to the correct interpretation and translation of all literature of any way connected with "Le Dalles du Collecteur," and to the final disposal of the same.

Judge Munson and U. S. Attorney Strickland, arrived yesterday. The Judge is the recipient of almost universal compliment for the manly stand he has taken both as regards the Dan Davis, horse case and the enforcement of the laws of the so called legislature now in session.

MATTERS AT JEFFERSON CITY

Leads are numerous in this county the "Yankee Blade," discovered by Mr. Cauly, now sunk upon to the depth of nearly twenty feet, and assays well. The forfeited "Gregory," and many others are proved to be rich, beyond dispute. The winter has been mild, tedious and monotonous, the snow lay deep on mountain and valley; but I am glad to say that it is about gone, and Spring, with all her loveliness, will soon be here to dispel the gloom and sorrow that has accumulated with the chilling winds and storms that mark the reign of the hoary monarch of the mountains; and the bright and brilliant sun begins to break through the leaden clouds and shine on me, cheering and enlivening the hearts of the weary miners, showing them there is yet a silver lining to every cloud. We had quite an excitement here a few days ago —a herd of bison came in sight of town; and you may be sure there was intense anxiety on the part of our people to obtain a few specimens of the shaggy denizens of the hills, for culinary purposes. They were soon attacked and successfully, three of their number being killed. With the return of fine weather we shall have more to record of business doing in developing the quartz lodes.

LIVELY SHOOTING SCRAPE AT HELENA.

A shooting affray occurred on Saturday night last, at Mather's Billiard Saloon on Main street. George Perkins and Jimmy Darrow, two men who are supposed to get their living by fingering the "pasteboards," had a little difference of opinion as to the case. Keeps of taking the scalp of a noble (?) red man that had made his appearance on the street. The subject of their dispute was unbarred; but, being on a bit of a spree, the differing gentlemen started in for a fight on general principles. Shooting commenced in front of the saloon into which Darrow fled, firing at Perkins as he retreated, and being fired at in turn, by the latter, from his position at the door. Darrow was slightly wounded in the left part of the arm above the elbow; but, miraculous as it may seem, some of the half hundred pistol shots were injured by the six shots that were fired. The non-combatants regarded the matter in the light of a "big thing," and "tender feet" joined Sun River men in rushing for cocktails. Not many minutes elapsed before the parties who had so recklessly imperilled the lives of their fellow-citizens were arrested by the United States Marshal, and the affair will be thoroughly investigated by the proper authorities

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

On the evening of March 5th, a number of the citizens of Helena assembled at Crescent Hall, to consider the justice of the execution of Daniels. Speeches were made by Messrs. Shober, Toole, Waterbury and Pemberton. Resolutions were passed expressing the determination of the voters to prevent the occurrence of such matters, hereafter, except by the fiat of the civil authorities.

The fight between Reilly and Shannon was postponed till to-day. Shannon broke his wrist in the last round. Both men were arrested and fined $50 each. Although embracing forty-six rounds, it was pronounced a thoroughly square fight.

One ton of ore, in the Seneca Falls' mill, Summit District, yielded $30 40.

RIVER IMPROVEMENTS.

The miners at Sun river, at a public meeting, adopted the following resolutions:

That we do solemnly bind ourselves to aid and assist, each other in protecting ourselves and property, and thereby using all offending Indians or squatting parties that are now prowling about us, if in our power so to do, and that we fortify the above pledge and bind us in until reinforcements arrive, and trust that this action may meet with the approbation of his excellency, Gov. Meagher.

One of the last reports from Salt Lake says that fifty thousand dollars for a mail line from Sioux City to Montana. So says a private letter from Sioux City.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The Legislature is in full fix, and everything is carried on in a brick house. The presiding officers were both legislators of last year. The Speaker of the House, A. E. Mayhew of Deer Lodge, is thoroughly posted on rules of procedure, is a good lawyer and "a man and a brother" in claims. The Hon. [illegible] President of the Council, is also up to the world. Both gentlemen keep on the track with quiet ease. The fill [illegible] and appointments of the two [illegible] are very [illegible] and come to. When a [illegible] fling the people of the Territory shall [illegible] we [illegible] these rooms will be [illegible]

The Inevitable Conflict.

The war of the late rebellion was an assumption that one part of the country hooted and spurned by the great God Carlyle, and another with head-locks and hoof-like hands to be ridden—that the wise and strong, because of their wisdom and strength, have a right to do as they will with the weak and simple. As A. H. Stephens well said, slavery, the evil not or accident of other States, was the corner-stone of the Southern Confederacy—that but for which that Confederacy had never been. Hence, every Tory, every Reactionist, in either hemisphere—every upholder of the divine right of king-craft or priest-craft—was a rebel sympathizer by instinct; while every republican, every socialist, in the Old World, was a champion of the Union cause. Men do not wait to reason out such differences—the King of Dahomey, had he been seasonably apprised of our quarrel, would have joyfully spared his brother-Jeff. a legion of his most blood-thirsty Amazons to fight for their common cause, though he detests and suppresses all secessions and rebellions in his own dominions. The highest law of elective affinity would make him tolerant of treason and revolution, when their aim is the conservation of the copple and the auction-block for beings made in the image of God.

It is impossible not to see in the recent utterances of our President a determination to make war on the advocates of human equality before the law. If he had said to the black delegation, "Your people must wait. Educate your children; seek knowledge; be industrious; be frugal; be thrifty, and you will ultimately attain all you desire; but prejudice is strong, and you must not expect everything done at once"—we should have felt that what he said was reasonable, and consoled acquiescence. So, if he had said to Congress, "There are some provisions in your Freedmen's Bureau bill which seem to me unwarranted and pernicious; allow me to designate them, and to solicit their modification"—we should have urged compliance with his requirements, even though we could not deem them intrinsically sound. But his veto message is a declaration of war—it can mean nothing else. It was not intended to convince but to defy Congress. There was not a copperhead, not a rebel in America who did not, on reading it, say, "This is the man for us—he talks just as we think and feel." We are confident that it will invoke letters of approbation from rebel fugitives in Europe, Mexico and Brazil—that some of them will even offer to return whenever assured that "the President's policy" is destined to prevail. John Surratt may not yet be ready to condescend to [illegible] but he will surely feel that he has not purified life and incurred the pains of exile in vain.

When we ask the right of suffrage for the blacks, we are told that they are too ignorant and degraded to vote; when we ask that provision be made for educating them, the reply is, that we surely cannot deem them fit to exercise the right of education, since we consider them qualified to vote. Such is the vicious circle wherein their rights are denied and their prayers for justice derided.

Again: let us suppose the people of the United States to be thirty-one millions, whereof sixteen millions side with us, and fifteen millions with the negro-haters. They stifle the voice of three to four millions of us, and say, "Don't you see that you are a weak minority? You have scarcely a party in ten or twelve States"—the fact being that we are a majority in most of them; and that most of us are suppressed and nullified. And this is the abused name of Democracy!

Of course, the natural presumption is that all who would sell their souls to keep and those who would sell them to get office, piling upon one hungry party, can secure it a present predominance. What if they do? With power comes responsibility. With action, difference. A blended Copperhead and rebel ascendancy, thinly veneered with office-holding and office-seeking Unionism, could not help assailing the National Debt, disturbing the safeguards of our National Industry, and many other things equally provocative of resistance. The new alliance, now being solemnized by salvos of artillery, can have but a short and stormy life at best; but give it power, and it cannot fail to explode by force of inherent repulsion.

We are of those who would gladly have accepted an installment of justice for the Freedmen, and waited for more to a more favorable season. But since we are driven to the alternative, we choose to claim full justice rather than acquiesce in its absolute, flat denial. It has been proved, at a fearful cost, that Slavery and Liberty cannot peacefully coexist—that one or the other must give way. It is now to be proved that the systematic degradation of a race precludes the general education of any race, and involves the perpetuation of ignorance, unthrift and barbarism for all. If we, as a people, need more lessons to make us wholly and nobly just, we shall receive them and pay for them.

Dark hours are probably at hand; but none forget that the way was cleared for the policy of emancipation by the want of heart and unconscious of McClellan, Buell, and their kind, rather than by the courage, ability, devotion and triumph of Grant, Sherman and Sheridan. So, though whatever of disaster and discouragement may lie before us, let us never doubt that the Republic is moving majestically forward to Universal Justice and Universal Freedom.—N. Y. Tribune.

A POOR OLD SECESSIONIST.—The following account of a fire in Henrico county, Missouri, is very distressing, particularly the last part of it

"On Sunday night Judge Cartwright's residence, some four miles southwest of Paris, was destroyed by fire, with a large amount of house hold goods, but little being saved. Loss, about $5,000. The fire broke out in an upper chamber, over the one in which the Judge and his lady slept, and when it was discovered, it had progressed so far as to render all efforts to stay its progress unavailing. The Judge and his wife narrowly escaped with their lives, as within five minutes from the time they woke up and found the house on fire, fire commenced falling through the upper floor on the bed in which they had been sleeping. They were alone at home. It occurred about nine o'clock. The loss falls peculiarly heavy on the Judge in his advanced age, and when taken in connection with his heavy losses during the war—the negro property alone amounting to over $20,000. But the this and other losses, no spent thousands of dollars in relieving his sons of the draft."

This old rebel deserves to be pitied: all he had was made out of the labor of the slaves liberated by the war, and the money expended to relieve his sons from the draft was doubtless the hardest blow of all.

Assuming that so little as one-half the value of imported foreign goods represents farm products, raw materials, and the food of the laborers that manufactured them, the official statements of our imports and exports for ten years before the war demonstrate the amazing truth, that we are in the habit of importing annually four-dollars' worth of European agricultural productions, for every one dollars' worth of American agricultural products we export! Is not this wonderfully smart? If Mr. Barnum purposes to found a portrait gallery of idiots in his museum of curiosities, he should lose no time in sending to Rockford, Illinois, for the likeness of the farmer who the other day in a public meeting announced that Free Trade was the only remedy for low prices of wheat and corn.

PENNSYLVANIA AND THE WAR.—The total number of troops furnished by Pennsylvania, exclusive of militia and enlistments for the navy, was 302,284 during the war; 1,242 orphans of soldiers are maintained and educated by the State, and arrangements are being made for the number of those deserving receipts of assistance.

POMPEII.—The excavations now making at Pompeii have brought to light several vestiges of the ancient Christians. In the palace of the Edile Pansa, in the Via Fortuna, an unfinished sculptured cross has been found on one of the walls, as well as abusive inscriptions and caricatures ridiculing a crucified God.

SEIZURE.—The United States Revenue officers at Los Angeles have seized 30,000 gallons of wine and 2,000 gallons of brandy, together with the still fixtures and machinery for manufacturing these liquors, belonging to one Guzze, an Italian, for alleged violations of the revenue laws.

An Indian Chief now on his way to Washington has had eighty-five wives. He has done a heavy business in the divorce line.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, April 13th, 1866.

Business for the week has continued very much the same as on the occasion of our last weekly review. Early as it is in the season, there is a notice able advancement in the trade with Montana, and while the most encouraging reports continue to reach us in confirmation of the extent and richness of the various regions east of the Cascade Mountains, none are more gratifying than the evidences about us that our merchants have secured a triumph, and will most assuredly be called on to furnish to Montana the principal portion of stores required for her rapidly increasing population.

In taking a short retrospection of this subject, we can readily see what it is that causes the activity by which we find ourselves surrounded. First, we would allude to the sudden springing into a lively existence of the many rich regions of country east of us, which have hitherto been almost unknown, except to a few explorers, and the early missionaries, and only by them so far as regarded its geography, climate and the savage population. The explorers in the early part of the present century, in ascending the Mississippi, found themselves in a greater wilderness than that discovered by recent African explorers, described in their writings on the sources of the Nile. But they opened up to the world a new country, which more recent developments is constructing into a great nation. To assist in its sudden growth, the new State needed some ready method of communication with the Pacific sea board to give it a proud pre-eminence, which has been supplied within a space of eight months, and the opening of this communication will not only be of material advantage to the new Territories, but will constitute in Oregon a bulwark that must render us supremely prominent among the cluster of States on the Pacific. We find ourselves called upon to contribute largely of the necessaries for a vast region of country, more prolific of resources, and yet perhaps less known, than almost any other portion of American soil, or the North American British Possessions. That this country must maintain an enormous commerce is an established fact—and it behooves our people to be prompt in action to see that we secure such legislation as will enable us to proceed in the bright era that is dawning for our State.

A statement exhibiting the commerce of each State of the United States separately, from July 1st, 1863 to June 30th, 1864, shows the value of Oregon exports in American vessels to have been $166,240. No foreign vessels are shown to have arrived in or cleared from this State during that time. The export value of goods shipped from Washington Territory for the same period is shown to have been $237,569, of which amount $123,238 was in foreign vessels. The total imports of Oregon were valued at $99,689, all of which arrived in American vessels, while the imports of Washington Territory are given at $385,943, of which $19,023 arrived in foreign vessels. The produce exports of California, with a foreign tonnage of 71,122 tons, reached an aggregate of $49,198 072 for the same time, and the aggregate imports foot up to $15,065,478. The number of foreign vessels clearing from San Francisco for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1864, was 150, with an aggregate tonnage of 59,086 tons. The number of foreign vessels which entered the port of San Francisco that year was 109, with a tonnage of 71,722 tons. The total number of both American and foreign vessels entering there for the same period, was 421, and the tonnage aggregated 203,558 tons from foreign countries, while the number entering the ports of this State was but 18, all of which were American vessels, with a tonnage of 16,132 tons, and our only source of dispatch was to British Columbia, during which time San Francisco was sending both American and foreign vessels to Asiatic Russia, the Russian Possessions in North America, Hamburg, British East Indies, England, Ireland, British Columbia, British East Indies, Australia Philippine Islands, Mexico, New Granada, Central Republic, Equador, the Sandwich Islands and other Islands of the Pacific, Japan and China, to the extent of 227,925 tons in 501 vessels, and was receiving from the same ports 200,558 tons in 421 vessels

There appears no permanent tonnage registered in this district, but in reviewing the subject, we find an aggregate tonnage for Puget Sound of 5,362 tons registered, of which 3,364 tons is foreign. The temporary tonnage and permanent license of the Astoria (Portland) district, including 89 tons in the coasting trade, registers an aggregate of but 4,125 tons. Our proportion of the enrolled and licensed tonnage in the coasting trade, we have ascertained amounts to 3,757 tons, but, even in that, Puget Sound shows a greater proportion by 1,051 tons, and San Francisco presents 25,283 tons permanently registered—18,027 tons temporarily registered, and an enrolled and licensed tonnage, of 46,237 tons.

We need not pursue the subject further—enough may be learned from the above to show any person that the only cause for the limited shipping of our port is the want of authority for a foreign trade. With our increasing commerce Congress should, if just to this State, grant that the port of entry be extended to Portland, and it is to be hoped that the influential portion of our citizens will take hold of the matter and not yield their claims until justice is done in the premises

The money market is without apparent change. Telegraphic exchange on New York is quoted at ¾ per cent, and on San Francisco ½@¾ per cent. Legal tenders 70@80. Rates of interest 10@12½ ₱ cent., with an increased demand for money.

Gold has continued coming whilst fluctuating for the week, closing yesterday at 12⅞ @ 1.7 flim. The telegraph has informed us that the Senate committee Mr. Fessenden, the former Secretary of the Treasury, Chairman has reported back the Loan bill, without amendment, for fear any amendment added might require the bill to be sent again to the House, when it would incur the danger of its fate altogether. Hence the bill may become a law in effect, passed, and we may, therefore expect to be in positions. The first section authorizes the issue of bonds, in denominations not less than $50 and payable at the pleasure of the Government any time after five years, and within forty years, or may be made redeemable at any time within those dates. The interest, to coin, not more than 6 per cent. per annum, or in paper 7-10ths per cent per annum. In exchange for these bonds the Secretary may receive any description of paper that has been, or may be issued by the Government. He may sell all the bonds at any price, or on any terms either publicly or privately. He may sell the bonds abroad at any price, or on any terms, and make the interest and principal payable in the money of any country that will purchase them.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, April 13th, 1866.

The amount of business done for the week has not been large. A fair jobbing trade is observed, but the condition of the roads having inland from the Columbia river has had a tendency to retard business generally. But few alterations are advised in prices current

A strike at the new Almaden quicksilver mine has caused an advance in quicksilver both here and at San Francisco to 75 cts per pound

Notwithstanding the concession of 50 cts per barrel made in the leading brands of flour in this market, sales are light on account of the lack of demand. The accumulation of stocks on hand is considerable. It is hoped that there will be a better demand for flour and bacon in a few weeks. Holders of flour are confident of a demand soon reaching them from Montana, and believe that they will be able to lay the article down at Helena at 13½ cts per pound freight before the next harvest. This calling is based up on the calculation that the freight from Portland to White Bluffs will be but 2 cts per pound, thence 140 miles overland to Fort Walla Walla 4 cts per pound, thence to the Jocko agency by steam 2½ cts per pound, thence 150 miles overland to Helena 5 cts per pound, making a total of 13½ cts. per pound freight.

There is some inquiry for seasonable goods. Hops is quoted at 22½ cts ₱ lb., axe and pick handles $4 00 ₱ dozen, and the demand for home manufactured brooms is increasing constantly.

GRAIN—Wheat $1 05@1 10 ₱ bushel; Oats 75 ₱ bushel.

COFFEE—Rio 25c, Costa Rica, 25½; Java, 33.
